

YOUR LIFESTYLE GUIDE

The Bank of America Ireland Pension Scheme (the Scheme) offers you a flexible Lifestyle option, where the funds your Retirement Account is invested in, and the proportion held in each fund, change automatically according to how far you are from retirement.

The flexible Lifestyle option is made up of a combination of the Freestyle funds. The funds follow a pre-determined strategy where your investments switch depending on how far you are away from normal retirement age (age 65 for the Lifestyle option). Here's a definition of the key components that make up the Lifestyle option; find out how they work in practice on the next page.

Growth phase: Until age 55, you will automatically be invested in the growth phase. This phase aims to grow your Retirement Account by investing in funds that have the potential for good return but which typically take more investment risk.

Pre-retirement phase: From age 55, you are automatically invested in the pre-retirement phase. This phase aims to provide some protection to your Retirement Account against sudden falls in value as you approach your normal retirement age (65). This is achieved through gradually moving your savings into investments that take less investment risk.

In this phase, you have three options to choose from, depending on how you are planning to access your savings at retirement.

The three options are:

- Lifestyle – Approved Retirement Fund (ARF)
- Lifestyle – Annuity
- Lifestyle – Cash

The next page explains how these funds differ in their investments as you approach retirement.

Normal retirement age: This age determines when your investments begin switching between the growth and pre-retirement phases. This date is fixed for the Lifestyle option at age 65.

Not planning to retire at 65?

If you are planning on retiring at a different age, you may want to consider choosing the Freestyle approach. This allows you to choose when you switch your investments from growth funds to funds that will protect the value of your Retirement Account, as you approach retirement. See your Scheme Handbook for more information on the Freestyle option.

Default option: If you do not make an active investment decision, from age 55, you will automatically be invested in the Lifestyle – ARF option. If this is not how you plan to access your savings at retirement, you should consider choosing one of the other options.

Please note: the value of all investment funds can go down as well as up

How your Retirement Account moves between the funds
	Choose this option if you...	Are happy to take a higher level of investment risk in exchange for the greater potential for growth offered through equities and diversified investments until you reach your normal retirement age. This might be suitable for you if you are not planning to take any income from the Scheme until after your normal retirement age in the Scheme (65).	Are planning to take your benefits in the form of an annuity (or pension) at your normal retirement age.

About the Lifestyle funds

The Lifestyle option is made up of a combination of the funds in the table below.

Fund factsheets are available on the Scheme administration website (see below for details).

Fund	It currently invests in...	Aims to...	AMCs %*
■ Passive Global Equity Fund	A blend of global equity market indices (i.e. investing in traditional equities which are selected and weighted on the basis of their market share). ■ Diversified Bond Fund	A range of traditional asset classes such as bonds, cash and money market instruments, and uses investment strategies based on advanced derivative techniques.	Provide positive returns in the form of income and capital growth, in all market conditions, over the medium to long term.	0.34
